MONDAY EVE., NOVEMBER 15, 1886.

THE Court of Claims of Harrison County had voted $10,000 to aid in building a bridge over Licking River at Put-in-Bridge.

The colored Methodists of Paris, it is said, will arraign all their members for whom they voted against local option the other day.

ALABAMA devotes a little over one-third of her State revenue to her public schools, but Kentucky does still better. Nearly one-half our State taxes is assessed for school purposes.

ACCORDING to Gen. Patrick A. Collins, who was returned to Congress from Boston by a largely increased majority, tariff reform was the only question in the recent campaign in that section.

The editor of the Enterprise is egotistical enough to imagine that he has coaxed some of the Irish Democrats of this county into the Republican fold. No one was ever more egregiously mistaken.

The Railroad Commissioners have assessed the roads in this State at $35,860,574, an increase of $4,000,000 over last year's valuation. We have 1,973 miles of road, 50 of which are not yet taxable.

The Board of Trustees of Shelbyville have refused to grant liquor license, and the saloons will all have to close their doors and quit the business. Judge DeHaven sustained the Board in its action.

JUDGING from the news from Lewis, it begins to look much like some more of the Republicans of that county would be running before long, but not for Congress. They will be trying to keep out of the clutches of the law.

The Enterprise talks of frauds at Lewisburg. If there were any frauds out there, the good citizens of that place can no doubt name, without a great deal of trouble, the two men from this city who were on hand with Morg's money. The Republicans ought to send some one else, though, hereafter.

THE BULLETIN'S "twiddle" about the "frauds in Lewis" must have made the editor of the Enterprise rather uneasy. He pleads in his dual editorials that Judge Wall "surely must have too much good sense" to contest Mr. Thomas' election. Brother Davis, why not say "please don't, Mr. Wall, you'll get us Republicans all into trouble if you do."

"Don't worry about John G. Carlisle, ye Republican contemporaries. Go with your sympathy to John Sherman or Mr. Blaine, or somebody else that needs it. Mr. Carlisle is all right. He will be re-elected Speaker of the House of Representatives with such brief ceremony and decisive emphasis that George H. Thobie will wonder how he dared run against such a man."—Exchange.

THE editor of the Enterprise represents Bill Fitch seated behind a poor, little miserable looking donkey on his way to Washington to tell Grover that "Morgan" run. We are inclined to believe that if Fitch and his donkey ever reach Washington, the remarks from the people, as the two drive up in front of the White House, will be, "fine pair," "two of a kind," etc., etc. We are certain no one braved him than Fitch did in the convention that nominated "Morgan."

HENRY GEORGE, in his recent work on the tariff question says: "Massachusetts is a highly protected State. In Lawrence, one of the most highly protected cities in the State, capital invested in manufactures has made a net gain of over 20 per cent. per annum for twenty consecutive years. The success of the highly protected laborers in these same manufactures is now about eighty-five cents a day for men and sixty-five cents a day for women. Child labor, of which there is altogether too much, is 'thrown in,'"

Samuel A. Walton.

Samuel A. Walton, of Lancaster, Ky., Friday nominated by the President to be United States Consul at Asuncion, Paraguay, is a native of Mason County, and is a lawyer. He is about thirty-two years of age. He was educated at Bethany College, Va., and was admitted to the bar in 1876. He is a brother of Judge Matt Walton, of Lexington, Ky., and is unmarried. The new Consul is a gentleman of intelligence, integrity, and industry, and his selection for the post of duty to which he has been assigned is an admirable one. He will acquit himself creditably, and do honor to his country by his services in the Consular Department. Controller Durham secured his appointment with Governor McCreary's assistance. Mr. Walton was also endorsed by the entire Congressional delegation from Kentucky, and by numerous prominent citizens.—Counter-Journal.

The official returns from the recent election in this district have been received at Frankfort, and the following is the result:

FOR CONGRESS.
George M. Thomas,.....15,000
Garrison S. Wall,.....13,500
Kitchen,.....1
Wall,.....41

THEIR PLURALITY.
Thomas,.....188
Garrison,.....146

FOR STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION.
Charles Kitchen,.....12,62
John A. Barnum,.....11,124
Henry C. Jones,.....135

Kitchen's plurality.....1,500
Kitchen's majority.....1,500

The result shows that between 3,000 and 4,000 less votes were cast for Congressman than were cast two years ago.

HEREFORD CATTLE BREEDERS.

They Take Steps Toward the Extermination of Pleuro-Pneumonia.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—The National Hereford Cattle Breeders' association held its annual meeting this day, about 100 persons being present. The following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, A. H. Levan, Channahay; vice president, Thomas Clark, Beecher; III.; executive committee-man, H. C. Clough, Elkhorn; board of directors, J. A. Funkhouser, C. J. Jacobs, W. Hamilton, J. A. Henry and C. N. Coe-grove.

A lengthy discussion upon the necessity of the association leading itself to the extermination of pleuro-pneumonia ensued, the result of which was the adoption of a resolution to delegate three to select thirty persons as delegates to the convention of the National Cattle Breeders' association and authorising them to speak pro rata as much as the other associations and members of the association in securing legislative action for the extermination of the disease. A resolution was adopted asking the secretary of the treasury to withdraw the permit for the importation of cattle for a period of one year. The later resolution met with considerable opposition, and was passed upon an authority statement that pleuro-pneumonia is prevalent in Great Britain, especially in the Dublin stockyards.

EMBEZZLER ENO.

The Biggest Crook Canada Preparing to Make Restoration.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Through the untiring efforts of the Canadian government, negotiations for settlement have been opened between friends of John C. Eno and the directors of the Second National bank, from whom he embezzled over $2,500,000. The amount of money was paid by the bank, and the director had no right to do so, the remainder, the United States district attorney yesterday confessed to a knowledge of the negotiations, but declined to say whether he would not be quashed the indictment if they were not. It is believed that the men who were a friend of the family says that when Eno received a letter from his sister, telling him what had been done, he took a early morning train at Montreal, and reaching this city at night, reported to the paternal mansion on York street, where he found a heavy Canadian sister and a soft fat hen.

THE CROOK MURDER Trial Postponed.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 15.—Dudley Crook will be tried at the November term of court, which began Monday, for complicity in the murder of the Coffey family. Today Dr. Wm. Atchison Blair announced that the case would go over one term, as it was impossible to secure the attendance of witnesses for the state. The case has already been postponed several times, and thus further delay causes much comment.

KILLED By Bears.

VIDEN, Ill., Nov. 15.—Joseph Highland, a young hunter, was killed by a bear containing a large bear, owned by W. L. Thompson, a rich farmer. Highland was about to clean the pen, when the animals attacked him and mauled him so badly that he died last night. He had been engaged in butchering, and it is supposed that the excess of blood on his clothing made the beasts forage.

A Small Embroidery.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 15.—Charles Johnson, a collector for the wholesale wine dealers of Bardineur Bros., is missing, and Philip Randolph, the head of the firm, states that they are $5,000 out of pocket. The embitterment has been in progress several months. A warrant has been sworn out for Johnson's arrest.

The "Southside" Road.

A correspondent of the Louisville Commercial, writing from Covington, says: "The rapid progress of work on the Southside Railroad has had the effect of giving a large increase in value to the property in the counties of Campbell, Pendleton, Bracken and Mason. This will be a road of very great importance when it is completed. All through freight from the East will then be shipped by way of this line instead of the old Kentucky Central road. When the Southside road is completed the Central will only have the local trade of Central Kentucky. But two passengers trains will be run daily on the latter road, and neither of them, I learn from an employee of the company, will be run as an accommodation for business men between Covington and Fairmount, as is now the case. This same gentleman gave me an idea of the expected importance of the Southside line when completed by saying that Huntington, to start with, would place eight passenger trains daily each way on the road. Passengers from Newport for Cincinnati will be carried for five cents, which, with the eight daily trains, will give Cincinnati merchants great inducement to make their homes in Kentucky while doing business in Ohio."

HOW A PAPER IS MADE.

"Pray, how is a paper made?"
The question is easy to ask,
But hard to answer.
Were rather a difficult task,
To judge it well to parade,
And tell how a paper is made.

An editor sits at his desk,
And ponders bethinks to make out
To be eluding the thoughts of the world—
Things solemn, witty, and queer—
He judges it well to parade,

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

THE LATEST ACCOUNTS OF THE HAP-PENINGS IN THE EAST.

Rebuking Prussian Officials for Excessive Gambling—Reviewing an Old Sensation.

The Austria-Hungarian Foreign Policy.
Land Slide Accident—Notes.

London, Nov. 15.—The dispute between
England and the French cables continues unabated. The new French directors are valiantly alternating between menace and cajolery to induce the pool to increase the rates, and the latter has sent a formal and final refusal of their demands to the French delegates who have for several weeks been engaged in attempting to coerce their London colleagues.

There is little doubt that the Mackay people are erging on the French directors, and still less that the latter will soon sever their connection with the pool and link their fortunes with the commercial community.

Count William Bismarck's recently publishing a letter rebuking the officials of Hanau, Prussia, for their excessive gambling and other immoral habits has evoked a large sarcasmic comment from the Liberal press of England. One paper, however, the Standard, has argued that he, with certain exceptions, is the military and civil service, on the occasion of the anniversary of the battle of Sedan, forcibly entered a brothel in the middle of the night by crawling through the window, and that he was compelled to do so because the house was closed and no one could be legally admitted, and remained there until morning. Most of the newspapers noticing Count Bismarck's letter recall one of the gay William's amours, which created a sensation of a nation wide.

LAKE SUPERIOR BUSINESS.

A Scheme of the Baltimore & Ohio Road to Reach Duluth.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 15.—It has come to light that for some time past a few Detroit capitalists and the Baltimore & Ohio Rail road have been making secret arrangements to get a share of the Lake Superior business. Some time ago Jesus H. Farwell and Thomas Adams, two leading vessel men of Detroit, laid a proposition before president of the B. & O. to build a line of steamers to a first-class line of propellers between Detroit and Cleveland or Sandusky, to ply in connection with the Baltimore & Ohio. Mr. Spencer went thoroughly into the matter, and resolved to take it in the autumn.

The B. & O. presented the scheme to the Baltimore & Ohio, Detroit, and had a consultation with the Detroit capitalists. Mr. Smith said that while it had not been definitely settled that the company would accept their proposition, he thought it a good idea to have a man who would make a fair arrangement with Duluth in the manner indicated if they had to build their own boats to maintain them. However, they preferred to work in connection with Farwell and Adams if they could get them to do so.

He also said the boats will be run to Duluth, to connect with the Northwestern rail road.
